The Toro Company Announces Land.Water.Thrive. 2018 Grant Recipients

Lake Antoine Park Partners and Habitat for Humanity Menominee River to Receive Grant Dollars

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (January 29, 2019) – Lake Antoine Park Partners and Habitat for Humanity Menominee River are the recipients of the 2018 Land.Water.Thrive. Greenspace Enhancement Grant Program from The Toro Company and BOSS Snowplow. The Toro Company and BOSS Snowplow are helping support these organizations and their efforts to revitalize parks and greenspaces, and the outdoors of the Dickinson County community.

The Toro Company and BOSS Snowplow are committed to supporting the community and surrounding areas and enhancing its outdoor environments. The Greenspace Enhancement Grant Program is another opportunity for the organization to support the efforts being done in this community.

“We are so proud to support an array of impactful community projects through the Greenspace Enhancement Grant Program,” said Judson McNeil, president of The Toro Foundation. “The projects supported in Toro communities across the world reflect the ongoing need to revitalize outdoor environments in our own backyard.”

Habitat for Humanity Menominee River received $20,000 for the Stanton Street Tot Lot project in Iron Mountain. This project will bring together civic groups and volunteers to transform the aging tennis courts to pickle ball courts in addition to installing new playground equipment and improving the greenspace with new landscaping that will enhance the park experience.

Lake Antoine Park Partners received $40,000 to revitalize one of the oldest parks in Dickinson County, Lake Antoine Park which covers 48 acres just outside Iron Mountain. This grant will help to revitalize the beach and lawn areas of park.
